AWARD LEVELS + CEREMONY

Each project will be judged according to its own merit and how well it resolves the problem(s) addressed. Projects should also demonstrate the AIA national commitment to sustainability, resilience, and inclusivity as detailed in the AIA Framework for Design Excellence. Projects will not be judged in competition but by measuring the architect's performance against each project's potential. Design Awards can be given in three degrees: Honor, Merit, and Citation. Honor Awards, the top honor, will be granted to built projects for overall design excellence. Merit Awards will be granted to built projects worthy of recognition because of their design quality. Citation Awards will be granted at the discretion of the jury. In addition, highlighting the importance of sustainable design, the jury may select award winners also to receive a commendation for sustainable design at their discretion.

The AIA Middle TN Design Awards program recognizes the following levels of achievement:

HONOR AWARD

Project demonstrates the highest level of design, performance, and sustainability.

MERIT AWARD

Project demonstrates exceptional design quality and performance.

CITATION AWARD

Optional Awards given to projects deemed worthy of recognition.

EXCELLENCE IN SUSTAINABLE DESIGN

All entries will be eligible to receive this award, which will be evaluated relative to the AIA/COTE Framework for Design Excellence.

The jury may elect to recognize projects that improve racial equity through impactful and thoughtful design.

Additional Awards

PEOPLE'S CHOICE AWARD

This award can be given in addition to awards of excellence, merit, or commendation.
